windervale

Building the human infrastructure the global creative economy doesn't have yet.

Akshita Chaturvedi, Founder · hello@windervale.com · windervale.com

High talent. Low visibility.

The world's most interesting creative work is being made outside the mainstream, by independent filmmakers, musicians, writers and artists in underrepresented communities. But almost none of that talent converts into a visible career, a fair deal or a sustainable income.

No one to build with

Cross-disciplinary collaboration still happens over DMs and word of mouth, slow, and hard to trust.

No path to capital

Grants and investors default to already-visible names; everyone else is priced out by gatekeepers.

No protection

Without clear agreements, credit and ownership routinely get lost the moment a project takes off.

The equity gap, in three numbers

63%

of cross-disciplinary creative collaborations

stall or fall apart from friction and unclear terms, not lack of talent.

73%

of independent creators

earn under $30K a year, even inside the top tier of their craft.

AGGREGATED

of the physical & experiential market is captured by platforms built for digital streams, the rest goes unaddressed.

◆ THE SOLUTION

One ecosystem, not ten disconnected tools

Today a creative project needs half a dozen unconnected tools. Windervale brings the whole lifecycle into one place.

Human Map

DISCOVER

Human-curated matching by skill, interest, location and what you want to build — not an algorithm.

Workspaces

COLLABORATE

Project planning, files, roles, credits, ownership, agreements and revenue-share, in one place.

Funding & Rights

PROTECT & FUND

Grants, investment, legal support and licensing built around each project.

Release & Obscura Library

DISTRIBUTE

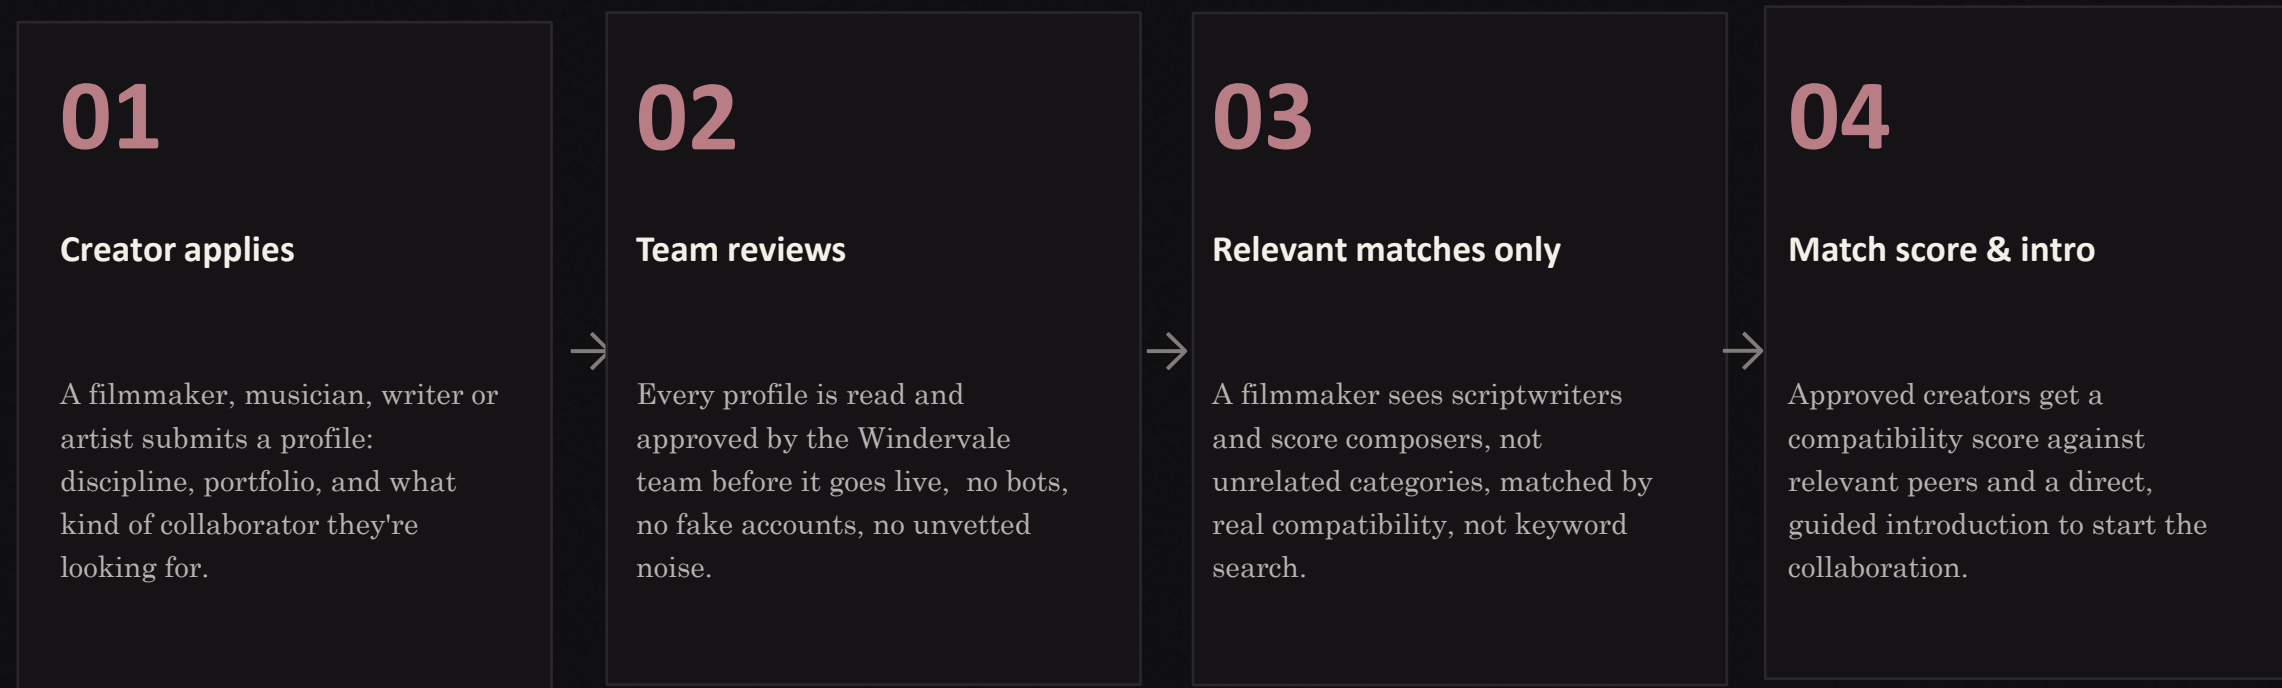

Festivals, workshops, curated opportunities, and a home for overlooked independent work.

IDEA → TEAM → PRODUCTION → FUNDING → RIGHTS → RELEASE → AUDIENCE

Not a portfolio site, social network, marketplace, or AI creative tool — the infrastructure behind how independent work gets made, protected, funded and released.

How human mapping works

Think GitHub meets Tinder for creative people, except every match is read and approved by a person before it's shown.

Four ways we support a creator

Creator Matching

LIVE — MVP

Human-curated pairing across disciplines, the flagship engine.

Project Support

ON ROADMAP

Structuring help to launch and run a collaborative project end to end.

Grants & Investment

IN BUILD

Grants (no-return, with progress tracking for donors) and investment access, India-based to start.

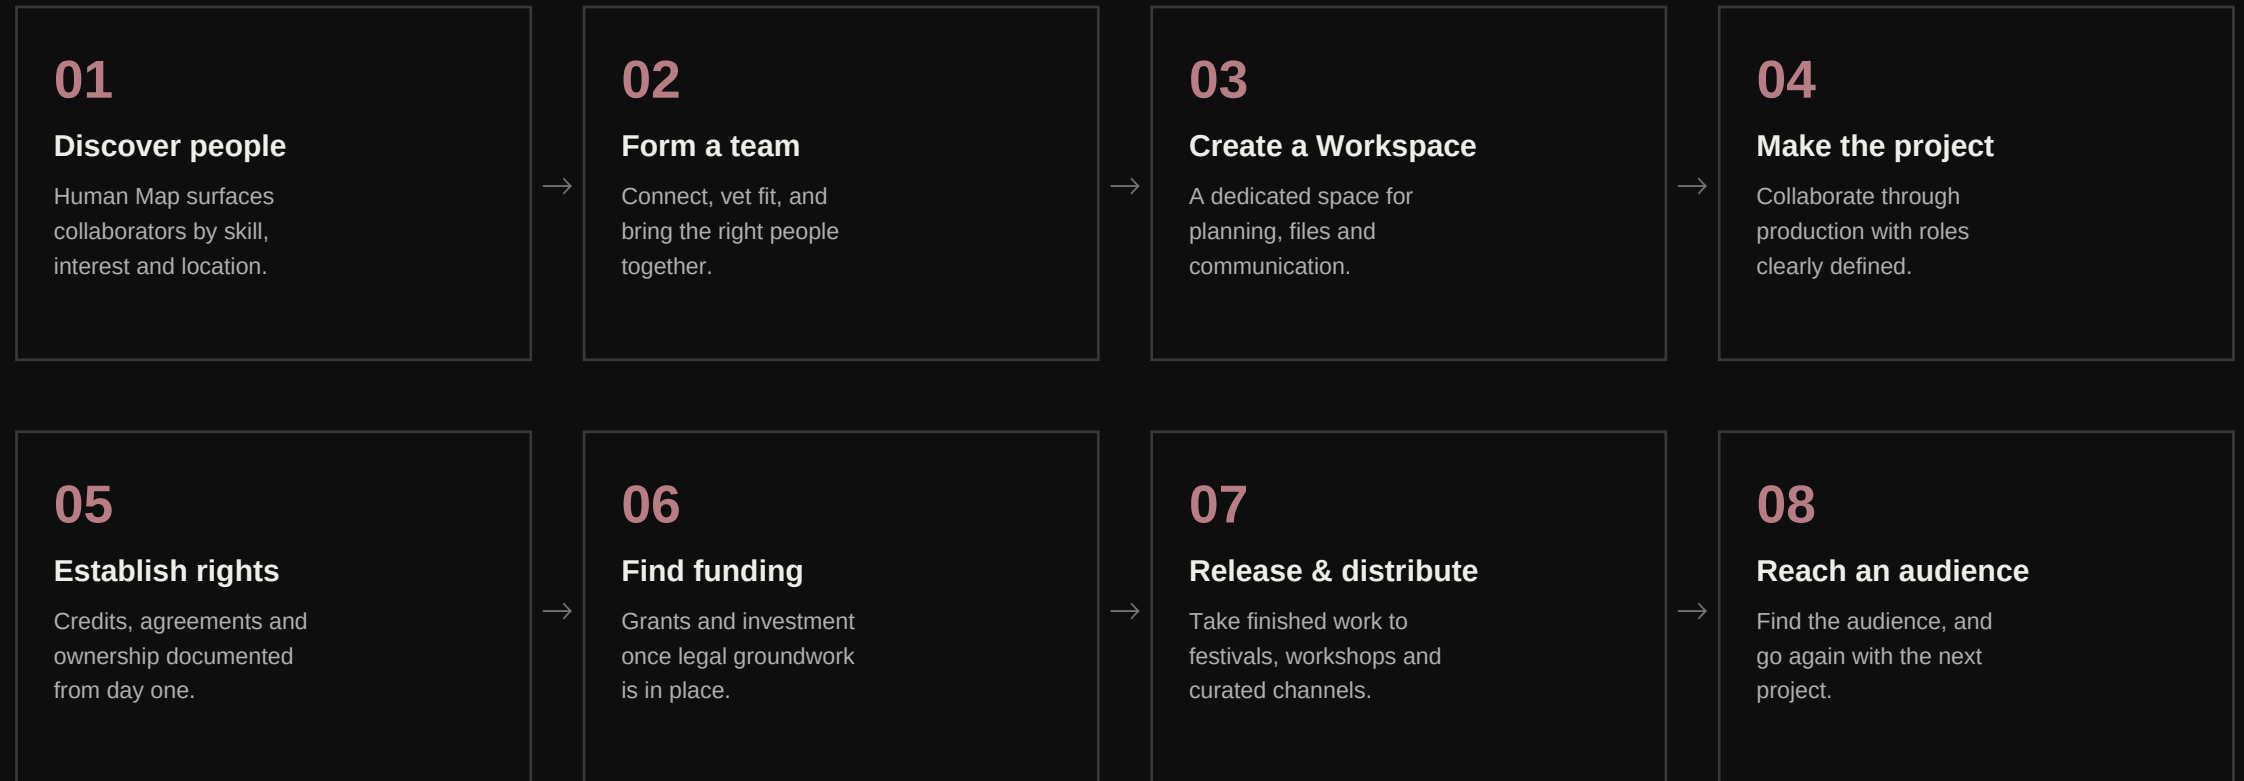

Festivals & Workshops

PLANNED — FEB 2027

Offline hubs in major creative capitals, where work is tested and launched in front of real audiences.

From idea to audience, end to end

Every stage a creative project needs, in one continuous path inside Windervale.

◆ COMPETITION

Where creators go today

No single platform curates the match, protects ownership and connects capital in one place.

Generalist Networks

PASSIVE

LinkedIn and Behance host portfolios and connections, but offer no curated matching or collaboration structure.

Community & DMs

UNSTRUCTURED

Discord servers and Instagram DMs are where cross-disciplinary collaboration happens today, informally and without vetting.

Funding Platforms

FUNDING ONLY

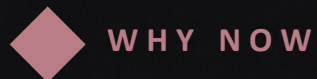

Patreon and Kickstarter help creators get paid once they're already known, not discovered or matched.

Freelance Marketplaces

TRANSACTIONAL

Contra and Wellfound are built for gig hiring, not creative partnership or shared ownership.

Windervale is the connective layer across all four: curated matching, protected ownership and funding access, together.

Two tailwinds, one moment

01

The decentralization of distribution

Audiences are moving from generic, centralized feeds toward localized, high-affinity indie platforms — independent cinema, regional writing and niche music are seeing real organic pull.

02

The demand for fair ownership terms

Independent creators are increasingly rejecting opaque gatekeeper contracts in favor of clear, direct terms. Windervale is built around transparent collaboration agreements from day one.

How we earn

STREAM 01

Workshops & Festivals

Ticketed access to workshops and festival nodes. Our earliest, most direct cash flow, and our best talent-sourcing filter.

STREAM 02

Facilitation Fees

A flat fee on grants and investment connections made through the platform between creators and funders, once legal infrastructure is in place.

STREAM 03

Curation Infrastructure (B2B) (B2B)

Recurring licensing for institutions and collectors who want vetted, direct access to independent cultural talent.

Three phases to global scale

PHASE 01 // MONTHS 0–6

Flagship Node

- Launch the matching MVP and onboard 50 tier-1 independent creators as design partners
- Run the first flagship workshop cluster to prove the model live
- Put clear, fair collaboration terms in place from the first cohort

PHASE 02 // MONTHS 6–12

Ecosystem Link

- Open grants & investment access once legal groundwork is complete
- Scale acquisition through cross-disciplinary creative communities
- Publish the first library submissions from the community

PHASE 03 // MONTHS 12+

Global Scale

- Replicate the proven playbook across major creative capitals worldwide
- Open direct licensing conversations with institutional partners
- Build toward a publishing arm for underrepresented creators

Why this doesn't get copied easily

LEGACY PLATFORM PLAYBOOK

Algorithmic exploitation

Mass distribution networks optimize for volume, burying independent cultural work under centralized ad-revenue loops.

Extraction dynamics

Standard platforms strip IP control away from creators, leaving independent ecosystems unmonetized.

THE WINDERVALE ARCHITECTURE

Creator-first ownership

Creators keep clear, documented control over their work, building trust and loyalty a copycat can't fast-track.

Deep community roots

We embed in specific creative communities before expanding, building trust that's hard to replicate from the outside.

Meet the person behind it

AKSHITA CHATURVEDI — FOUNDER

I'm an Economics and Political Science student at Delhi University who loves the creative world. Last year I spent hours researching and building my own independent creative business, which gave me a firsthand look at how messy the business side of things can be for creators.

I'm deeply connected to the global indie creative community, and I'm building Windervale to give underground artists the tools and financial infrastructure they actually deserve.

I don't have all the answers yet, but I know how to manage a budget, I know how to get things made, and I'm ready to work incredibly hard to make this ecosystem real.

Raising $50K–$150K

Pre-seed, to take Windervale from working MVP to a proven, repeatable global node.

40%

Product & platform

Finish the matching engine, creator profiles, and legal/ownership infrastructure.

35%

Flagship festival launch

Venue, production and logistics for the flagship offline launch node.

25%

Team & operations

Bring on early support for community curation, partnerships and legal setup.

12-month milestone: a live matching platform, 50 onboarded creators, and one proven festival node — the case for a seed round.

Thank you
